About APNOMS 2008

The 11th Asia-Pacific Network Operations and Management Symposium (APNOMS 2008) will be held in Beijing, China from October 22 to 24, 2008. Recently, various convergences in wired and wireless networks, and convergence of telecommunications and broadcastings are taking place for ubiquitous multimedia service provisioning. For example, broadband IP/MPLS wired networks are actively converged with IEEE 802.11e wireless LAN, IEEE 802.16 Wireless MAN, 3G/4G wireless cellular networks, and direct multimedia broadcast (DMB) network. For efficient support of service provisioning for ubiquitous multimedia services on the broadband convergence networks, well-designed and implemented network operations and management functions with QoS-guaranteed traffic engineering are essential.

In APNOMS 2008, the topics of interest include, but not limited to, network & service management for broadband convergence networks, business operations & management, service-oriented managements (e.g., SLA/SLS, security, billing), management architecture and technologies, various experiences, and recent standardization activities.,

SPONSORSHIP INVITATION

The APNOMS 2008 Organizing Committee cordially invites you to consider this exciting corporate sponsorship opportunity. The APNOMS attracts both academics and industrial partners from all over the Asia-Pacific region, making it a unique, annual event focused on the network management and operations. Sponsorship at APNOMS 2008 will therefore provide you with direct access to hundreds of decision makers and experts related to network/service operations and management. Participating as a sponsor of APNOMS 2008 is the most cost-effective way to assessing the state of the market and the industry's future needs and trends and to introduce your latest solutions and products to the participants. You are welcome to contact the APNOMS 2008 Secretariat (give the email address) for more information on the sponsorship details.
